IT IS SPRING AGAIN BY: FRANK CHESSER

It is Spring again. Naked branches clothe themselves with splendid color. Brooks sparkle with new life as they course their way through woods and meadows of green. Birds sing, nest, and fly incessantly in search of food for hungry mouths. Butterflies wing their way through sunlit skies. Fish spawn, flowers bloom and glow and newly attired boughs sway gently in balmy breezes as the symphony of nature sings its songs of joy. It is Spring again. Members of the kingdom once saved by grace and redeemed by blood have rejoined the ways of the world. Nature robes itself, and man disrobes. Skimpy apparel becomes commonplace. Snakes shed their skin, and men shed their clothes. Professed Christians cease walking by faith. In shame, Adam and Eve hid among the trees of Eden. Void of shame, many in spiritual Israel put their partially clad form on public display. Emerging from the womb of winter, nature arrays itself in resplendent color. Rising from the sphere of worldliness, the image of God wraps itself in the cloak of lasciviousness. Purity gives way to lust. Teaching on modesty in dress is seldom done and when done, is largely ignored. Such efforts are viewed as archaic and out-of-touch with the times. The extreme permissiveness of modern society has blinded the minds of many in the church with regard to the very essence of spirituality. In matters of dress, there is often no distinction to be seen between members of the church and members of the world. Such people are viewed by those in the world as no different from themselves, and thus, have nullified their spiritual magnetism in drawing men to Christ. There is no justification for joining Spring's parade of flesh. Participation cancels the light of one's influence and aligns him with the world. It is wholly inconsistent with the principle of holiness "without which no man shall see the Lord" (Heb. 12:14). It is lascivious in its very nature, and "they who practice such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God" (Gal. 5:21).

BIBLE SCHOOL CORNER

Adult Classes

In the Adult Classes, we are studying great lessons from the Word of God.

On Sundays, we are studying the theme of "This We Do." We are looking at what the church of Christ does.

On Wednesdays, we are studying from the book of Leviticus. This is a textual study as we study verse-by-verse what God says.
