“WHO IS CALLING?”

BY: REID PERRY

When hunting for turkeys in the spring of the year, the proficient hunter is one who can recognize and reproduce the sounds of a wild turkey hen. The intent of the calling is to coax a large male turkey into shotgun range and then to the dinner table.

Decision time for the turkey male is when he hears the calling but cannot see the source of it. If it sounds enough like a turkey hen, he may elect to investigate, but he may [as is typical in the South] hang up 60 yards away and wait for the “hen” to come to him. He simply has one [life or death] question: “Who’s calling?”

Likewise, humans must be wary in answering the calls that surround us. The world has many voices that call, while truth has but one.

The world calls to our ambition, and causes us to believe that we are doing the acceptable thing in the pursuit of power, wealth and fame. But John said, “Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world” (1 John 2:15,16).

The world calls to our desire to accumulate possessions and causes us to believe it leads to happiness. But Jesus said, “Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man’s life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth” (Luke 12:15). God calls us through His word (the Bible), especially from the New Testament (Heb. 1:1,2), by the Gospel (2 Thess. 2:14), and by those who spread the good news of the Gospel (Mark 16:15,16).

The religions of men call to humanity in direct competition of the truth, causing earth’s inhabitants to believe that one religion is as good as another, if people are sincere. Yet, the New Testament mentions nothing of a multiplicity of religions from God. Rather, we see that the New Testament informs of only one church, one faith and one Gospel.

The Bible is the single source of all-sufficient truth. Therefore, it alone should be our authority in determining whether the calling we hear is heavenly or worldly.

God calls from heaven with the words of life, while Satan calls from the world with words of deception. God provides evidence and testimony to confirm the truth, while Satan uses lies and counterfeits to distract and condemn. You have but one answer to give; therefore, consider, “Who’s calling?”
