“THE SIN OF BEING NEUTRAL: PART 4”

BY: B. C. CARR

The Sin of Meroz

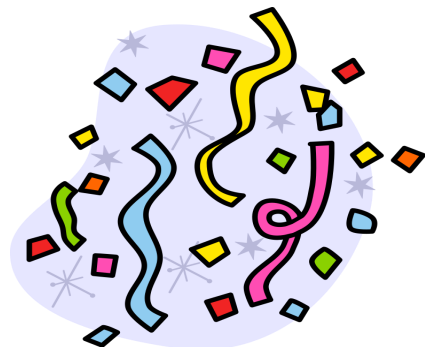

In Judges 5:23 we read, “Curse ye Meroz, said the angel of the Lord, curse ye bitterly the inhabitants thereof; because they came not to the help of the Lord, to the help of the Lord against the mighty.” God’s people were in a battle for their lives. God was mightily concerned, but where was the house of Meroz? They were still abiding in their sheepfolds. They were content to remain idle and let others do the fighting, but God was displeased. He ordered a curse be placed against them.

What was their sin? The same as many of our brethren today! They wanted to remain neutral. They wanted others to do their fighting.

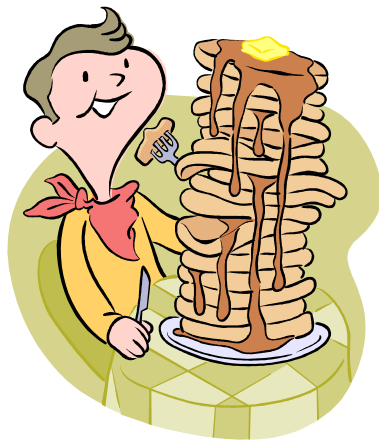

There are those even now who will not join in the battle against error in the church. They look upon themselves as lovers of peace.

Start the year off the way you ought by making sure you are here on Wednesday night for the first Bible Class of 2019! Our studies in the Word of God will do you good!

NEWS

They even become critical of those who are known as “fighters” or “brotherhood watchdogs.” Some of these are trying to do a balancing act on the fence of neutrality. If the truth prevails on some issue and error is exposed to the point that it is unpopular, they will fall off on the side of the majority and proudly claim, “We have won the victory”—yes, and “we killed a bear, but papa shot it.
