“FERVENT IN SPIRIT”

BY: BILL JACKSON

Paul writes the epistle to the Romans on the theme of “the justification of all men, Jew or Gentiles, by obedient faith in the Christ.” The first eleven chapters tells of God’s planning and working to bring this to fulfillment; as chapter twelve begins, Paul explains how the justified man lives. Many, many worthwhile points here, but we note Romans 12:11, “fervent in spirit.”

“Spirit” has to do with disposition, attitude, with which one faces and goes about in service to God. “Fervency” is descriptive of that attitude, and its root is “hot, to boil—as water is boiled,” and is thus akin to zealousness.

Now, what does that say about indifference, carelessness, lukewarmness, and lack-of-concern? In our service, we are to be “zealous of good works” (Tit. 2:14)—“fervent in spirit.” That true quality is come from one’s conversion and conviction, and real dedication to God, and all the hype, gimmickry, entertainment and whoop-de-la won’t create it!
