“ARE WE ROBBING GOD?: PART 1”

BY: FOY E. WALLACE, JR.

The book of Malachi was the last message of God to His ancient people, according to the Old Testament canon. It is a short message of only four chapters, but is gripping with interest. The condition of Israel is presented in lurid light. They had despised God, polluted God’s altars, wearied God, spoken against God, and robbed God. Yet, the people were unable to see it, and they answered Malachi’s charges with the question, “Wherein?” They had rebuilt the temple, set up the altars, offered the sacrifices, observed the feasts, and paid the tithe. Why the prophet’s charge? Wherein were they guilty? It was an outward, formal, ostensible service without character or love. To appease “a god” was the sole purpose of their ceremonies. Is it not the picture of the present age? Thousands “go to church,” maintain outward forms, hold orthodox views, but where is the power of religion in the heart and life? Therein were the people robbing God, and herein are we yet robbing God.

Malachi’s bill of indictment against Israel may be summed up in six charges, all of which find their counterpart in the spirit of this age. Check them against the general attitude of the church toward the service of God.

Profanity

“If then I be a father, where is mine honour?” (Mal. 1:6-7). Calling God father and claiming the relation which the term implied, yet not according Him the honor, was “despising” His name. Today to claim the relationship to Christ which the name Christian implies, present gifts and services in the church, yet dishonoring Christ in the life, is profanity. God receives and rejects gifts as He receives and rejects the individual.

Sacrilege

“If ye offer the blind...the lame and sick, is it not evil?” (1:8). Sacrilege centers in giving to God something that costs us nothing. When service ceases to be sacrificial, it becomes sacrilegious. God values the gift, not by its intrinsic worth, but by its cost to the giver and the spirit in the giving. The widow’s mite illustrates this principle. We cannot use the best for self and give a meager remnant to God.
