“ARE WE ROBBING GOD?: PART 2”

BY: FOY E. WALLACE, JR.

Greed

“Who is there even among you that would shut the doors for nought?” (1:10). Service to God had degenerated into selfish interest. There was an ulterior motive in every gift offered and every service rendered. Why do we render service to God? For reward or for the very love of God?

Weariness

“Behold, what a weariness is it!” (1:13). Today men tire of spiritual worship. There is a demand for attraction, entertainment, and an unhallowed and ungodly cry for short sermons. The demand might be worthy of consideration but for the fact that the same individual who is fidgety at church spends hours at the opera and stadium.

Treason

“Every one that doeth evil is good... Where is the God of judgment?” (2:17). Excusing sin, glossing over evil, lowering the divine standard of right conduct, representing God as succoring them that do evil, is high treason. Yet, discipline in the church today is virtually an unknown and an unheard-of thing. To harbor those who do evil and treat and respect them as though they were good is betraying the God of judgment. He is a consuming fire to sin and the sinner and never signs a truce with either.

Robbery

“Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me.... In tithes and offerings” (3:8). The people were paying the tithe, yet they were robbing God “in tithes and offerings.” God demanded not the mere tithe, the letter of the law; He demanded “the whole tithe”—the heart, the tithe with the heart. To underestimate now what we can give is dishonesty toward God. But to give God our money and not give Him our heart is also robbery in the sense of Malachi’s charge.

The book of Malachi is a picture of the church today. It is an ancient message to a modern church. Paul told Timothy that perilous times would come, when men would be lovers of self, covetous, proud, blasphemous, unthankful, without natural affection, incontinent, despisers of those who are good, and “having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof” (2 Tim. 3:5).

How true are the descriptive adjectives of conditions among men of the world today, and the latter, “holding a form of godliness,” of members of the church! The only remedy or hope is for preachers not to yield to the pressure of modern demands and the lure of worldly praise, but to “preach the word”—“reprove, rebuke, and exhort.” The world may not hear, but a remnant in the church may be saved.
