“OUR CHILDREN MUST BE TAUGHT THAT DENOMINATIONALISM IS SINFUL”

BY: GARLAND ELKINS

Let it be plainly stated that no matter who belongs to a denomination now, no one belonged to one in the first century. Paul was accused of being a member of a sect (Acts 24:5). He denied that he belonged to a sect and stated that such a false charge could not be proved (Acts 24:13-14). There is nothing denominational in Christianity. People must be more than and different from Christians to be in a denomination. It is very clear, therefore, that one can be a Christian without belonging to a denomination. Denominationalism rest upon division. Let us note: (1) Denominationalism repudiates the teaching of the apostles. “Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment” (1 Cor. 1:10).

(2) Denominationalism makes unbelievers. Jesus prayed, “Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me” (John 17:20-21). Unity among believers would cause others to believe while division would and does produce unbelievers. (3) Denominationalism teaches that God contradicts Himself. Paul wrote, “For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints” (1 Cor. 14:33). All Christians of the first century were members of the same church, and it took all of them to constitute the church. There were no denominations in the first century, and there would be none now if no one preached or practiced anything but that which was preached and practiced in the first century. To go to heaven one must repudiate all churches except the church of the New Testament which includes all Christians. In other words, the church of the Lord consists of all of the saved of earth. The same process which makes one a child of God constitutes him a member of the Lord’s church (Acts 2:22-47). Most all religious people readily admit that a man can be a Christian and go to heaven without belonging to a denomination. It is a fact that no matter who belongs to a denomination now, nobody belonged to one in the first century! (Acts 2:38-47; Eph. 4:32; Jam. 3:14-16).
