“A Friendly Church Seeking to Edify Each Other as We Shine as Lights unto the World”
 Serving Since 1923

“O worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness:
fear before him, all the earth (Psalm 96:9).”

“WHAT IS RIGHT WITH OUR YOUTH?: PART 2”

BY: JASON R. ROBERTS

Young people can rejoice even when the world stands against them. This is vividly seen as David’s agonizing heart turns to great joy and confidence in God: “How long wilt thou forget me, O LORD? for ever? how long wilt thou hide thy face from me? How long shall I take counsel in my soul, having sorrow in my heart daily? how long shall mine enemy be exalted over me? Consider and hear me, O LORD my God: lighten mine eyes, lest I sleep the sleep of death; Lest mine enemy say, I have prevailed against him; and those that trouble me rejoice when I am moved. But I have trusted in thy mercy; my heart shall rejoice in thy salvation” (Psa. 13:1-5).

Second, Solomon reminds today’s youth to live a life of remembrance. “Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth” (Ecc. 12:1). There are several things worthy of consideration from Solomon’s admonition. First, there is urgency of remembering our Creator. “Remember now thy creator.” Remembering one’s Creator earlier in life will help one remember his Creator when the twilight years come—yes, even when the curtain of his or her life is about to be drawn to a close (vv. 2-7). We have young people who are not ashamed to remember their Creator when they are at school, when they are on the job, when they start dating, and when they get married. Thank God for their dedication to remember the One from whom all blessings flow! Second, part of remembering one’s Creator while young includes remembering the precious Book their Creator left them. Upon his leaving home for college, a loving mother wrote in the inside cover of her son’s Bible: “This Book will keep you from sin. And sin will keep you from this book.” Someone has well said, that if we will carry this Book (the Bible) when we are young, it will carry us when we get older. Congregations consisting of dedicated, faithful, older members are living testimony to this truth. Thank God for our young people and their dedication to study, to learn and to live the greatest message from the grandest of all Books written! Remembering God in one’s youth, will allow God to remember then throughout the entirety of their lives. “But thou, O LORD, shalt endure for ever; and thy remembrance unto all generations” (Psa. 102:12). “A good man sheweth favour, and lendeth: he will guide his affairs with discretion. Surely he shall not be moved for ever: the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance” (Psa. 112:5-6).

In a sad world, we need young people to rejoice. In a forgetful world, we need young people to remember. We thank God for our youth. Let us rejoice with them and always remember them.
