“UNDER, OUT OF, OR IN CONTROL?: PART 2”

BY: KERRY DUKE

People with money and power can easily feel like they are in control. That is a prideful illusion. The mighty Pharaoh of Egypt in the book of Exodus thought he was in control until the hand of God put him in his place. The rich man in Luke 12:16-21 felt sure of his plans until God took his very life. Nebuchadnezzar felt confident of his power as king over the most powerful nation on earth until God took his sanity and his throne away from him in Daniel 4.

But we don't have to be rich or powerful to feel independent and self-sufficient. It's easy to think we are masters of the small part of the world we occupy.

This is why we need interruptions in our routines. This is why accidents and unforeseen events can bring us to our senses. It is good that life puts us in situations that we cannot manage or change. Sickness, injuries, family problems, national dangers, natural disasters and the ever-present possibility of death remind us that we are not in control of much of anything.

Yes, God is in control. But the one thing He won't control is your attitude about His being in control. That decision is in your hands.
