“A Friendly Church Seeking to Edify Each Other as We Shine as Lights unto the World”

Serving Since 1923

“Confounded be all they that serve graven images, that boast themselves of idols: worship him, all ye gods (Psalm 97:7).”

“MEET THEM WHERE THEY ARE: PART 1”

BY: KERRY DUKE

Jesus did. He mixed publicly with all kinds of people and taught them. But one thing is sure: while He met people where they were in life, He did not leave them there!

Today churches draw crowds by advertising, “Come as you are. We won’t judge you. We’re all sinners anyway.” Of course we want sinners to come to our church services—adulterers, drunkards, homosexuals, and thieves. But our goal is not to smile and be silent about their sin. Our job is to teach them to repent so they can be saved!

Many church leaders are more interested in numbers than truth. This problem is becoming more acute because church attendance has declined. But we never see men of God in the New Testament compromising and adjusting to gain or keep a crowd:

- Jesus taught sinners. He ignored racial barriers and met the Samaritan woman on common ground, but He did not ignore her sinful relationship with a man and her wrong idea about worship (John 4:1-24). He had compassion on the woman who was caught in the act of adultery, but he also told her, “Go, and sin no more” (John 8:11). Our Lord met with sinners to call them to repentance (Matt. 9:13), but He did not go to brothels or attend drinking parties to find them.
- Paul preached for almost three years in a city that had a large theater that featured singing, drama, circuses and other entertainment. That was the high life in the city of Ephesus (Acts 19). But Paul never tried to bring theatrics into the worship of the church. He never encouraged drama, solos, and other entertainment in the assembly. Paul met the Ephesian people where they were, but he left their shows and performances where they belonged—at the theater. People today who think “church” should be a concert need to consider this.
